CONTRACTS

AIR FORCE

Lockheed Martin Corp., of Sunnyvale, Calif. is being awarded a $460,375,787 contract modification. This contract modification to the engineering, manufacturing, and development contract for the Space Base Infrared System (SBIRS) revises the ground development and delivery strategy and ultimately implements a more flexible ground infrastructure. Current program funding is sufficient to execute this updated implementation. This modification delivers the next block (i.e. Block 10) of ground systems capability and is built upon a smart architecture that allows the four different mission areas to be segregated to achieve future sustainment efficiencies and enable independent evolution of capability. The Block 10 delivery also provides an interface for other users as a critical step in ensuring that the SBIRS data is available to a large community of users for both real time activities as well off-line analysis. This upgraded ground system will be fielded at one primary and one back-up government facility, and it will replace the existing legacy operational ground system and other interim stand-alone software baselines. The Block 10 system will perform integrated processing of data from SBIRS and its legacy system, i.e., DSP Overhead Persistent Infrared satellites. The system will release missile warning and battle space awareness messages to war fighters and will provide other relevant data to technical intelligence and missile defense users. Work will be performed at Sunnyvale, Calif. and Redondo Beach, Calif. The contracting activity is the Space and Missile Systems Center, Los Angeles Air Force Base, Cal., (F04701-95-C-0017, P00641).

Northrop Grumman Systems Corp., Integrated Systems Sector, of San Diego, Calif. is being awarded a $247,000,000 firm fixed price contract to provide logistics support activities required to support Global Hawk unmanned aerial vehicle fielded systems and subsystems used in peacetime operations, which includes fielded air vehicles, engines, payloads, ground segments, and support segments. The contractor shall provide materials and support services to include planning, operations supports and maintenance in support of Global Hawk fielded systems used in peacetime CONUS and OCONUS deployments. The location of performance is Northrop Grumman Integrated Systems Air Combat Systems, San Diego, Calif. The contracting activity is WR-ALC/GRCKA, Robins AFB, Ga., (FA8528-11-C-0003).

Lockheed Martin Corp., of Orlando, Fla., is being awarded a $162,742,115 firm fixed price contract modification for a Lot 9 production contract for approximately 95 baselines and 30 extended range missiles to support the Air Force, which also includes warranty and systems engineering. Work will be performed at Orlando, Fla. The contracting activity is AAC/EBJK, Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., (FA8682-11-C-0001).

Chavis-Barnhill Construction LLC, Red Springs, N.C.; D.E. Walker/Edison Foard LLC, Charlotte, N.C.; Guerrero/Pence Group LLC, Raeford, N.C.; MW Squared, L.P., Red Springs, N.C.; and Richard Brady & Associates, Inc., Matthews, N.C.; have been awarded a (maximum) $45,000,000 Multiple Award Construction Contract, which is a multiple award, design-build indefinite delivery/indefinite quantity contract based on a general state of work, which is further defined on each individual task order. Work to be performed is a broad range of maintenance, repair, and minor construction projects on real property at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, Dare County Bomb Range, and Fort Fisher, N.C. The work involved will be in the general construction category to include, but is not limited to, maintenance, repair, alteration, mechanical, electrical, heating/air conditioning, demolition, painting, paving and earthwork. This action is for the award of five basic contracts with each having a base period of one year plus four option periods of one year each. The contracting activity is the 4th Contracting Squadron, Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C. (FA4809-11-D-C002), (FA4809-11-D-C003), (FA4809-11-D-C004), (FA4809-11-D-C005), (FA4809-11-D-C006).

Lockheed Martin Aeronautical Systems and Marietta, Ga., is being awarded a $21,400,000 firm fixed price contract modification that will add the C-130J Block 7.0 Upgrades and a special mission processor capability that includes both development and integration of know/low risk improvements. Work will be performed at Marietta, Ga. The contracting activity is ASC/WLNNC, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, (FA8625-11-C-6597 P0002).

Kaman Precision Products of Orlando, Fla., is being awarded a $19,818,294 firm fixed price contract modification which will provide the Air Force with an additional quantity of 6,000 of the Joint Programmable Fuze systems to meet munitions requirements. The JPF is a state of the art fuze system used with precision weapons systems such as the Joint Direct Attack Munition, and equipped with variable delay systems that may be programmed manually or from the cockpit through its in-flight reprogrammability feature. Work will be performed at Orlando, Fla. The contracting activity is AAC/EBDK, Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., (F08626-98-C-0006, P00143).

The Boeing Co., of Wichita, Kan., is being awarded a $6,790,520 contract modification for the C-130 Avionics Modernization Program contract change proposal 0610 Low Rate Initial Production engineering drawing updates for kit proof/final physical configuration audit and CDRL 0001. The location of performance is the Boeing Co., Wichita, Kan. The contracting activity is ASC/WLNMC, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, (F33657-01-C-0047/P00183).

MISSILE DEFENSE AGENCY

The Missile Defense Agency is awarding Lockheed Martin Mission Systems and Sensors, Moorestown, N.J., a cost-plus-incentive-fee/cost-plus-award-fee modification with technical/schedule performance incentives for a total value of $34,417,462 under Missile Defense Agency contract HQ0276-10-C-0001. The modification accounts for schedule and within scope adjustments to Aegis Ballistic Missile Defense Baseline 4.0.1 development and multi-mission signal processor (MMSP) development under two separate contract line items. For 4.0.1, the change accounts for an initial delay in the certification schedule and an adjustment in the test plan originally contained in the 4.0.1 completion contract line item. For MMSP, the increase is associated with an extension to the development schedule to account for alignment with changes to the ACB-12 overall combat system development and integration program plan, and attributable to a delay in delivery of government furnished equipment. The work will be performed in Moorestown, N.J. The performance period for this contract is through December 2014. Fiscal 2011 research, development, test and evaluation funds will be used to fund this effort. The Missile Defense Agency is the contracting activity.
